

People of the Tules: Archaeology and Prehistory of California's Great Central Valley

In 2006 Caltrans contracted with archaeologists to collect information from a prehistoric village site called CA-SJO-3 that lay in the path of a new freeway overcrossing. Excavations at the site recovered a wide variety of artifacts and food remains, and revealed evidence of great environmental and cultural changes through time in California's San Joaquin Valley.

Yokuts Basket Design

Archaeologists Working at Site CA-SJO-3

